

Russian House Code of Conduct

Token System:

Visitors can purchase tokens at the entry, which can be exchanged for food or drinks.

[Important: There will be no refund for unused tokens]

Event Rules:

This event presents opportunities to meet new people, learn about contemporary Russian culture and enjoy a variety of both electronic and live music. The Russian House collective organised this event to represent a safe, enjoyable and inclusive environment for all people, irrespective of gender, race, ethnicity, age, sexuality or religion.

Acceptable Behaviour

As an event organiser, we expect everyone to be respectful to others at all times. Everyone should be aware of the impact their behaviour can have on others. We ask that you:

- Respect the venue, the staff and any equipment you may be allowed to use.
- Be courteous when speaking to someone or engaging with them.
- Treat people the same way you would like to be treated.
- Respect someone's personal space and body

Unacceptable Behaviour

- Derogatory, inflammatory or discriminatory language, comments or conduct.
- Engineered episodes of intimidation, aggressive actions or repeated gestures.
- Stalking or following.
- Persistent and unwanted sexual advances.
- Bullying behaviour
- Unwanted physical contact.
- Drug use
- Uncontrollable level of alcohol intoxication

In case any of the rules are broken, the Russian House staff will ask you to leave the premisses and no refund will be provided.